GMA urged to clean up Napocor first

Gov't blamed for power firm mess

TWO PARTS-LIST groups yesterday blamed President Gloria Arroyo for the mess of the National Power Corp. (Napocor) and urged her to clean up her own backyard of vested interests before engaging in a tough task.

Arroyo and the President's Office, however, said they would not be involved in the task of cleaning up the power firm.

Napocor's liabilities stood at P1.4 trillion at the end of 2007, up from P1.1 trillion in 2006. The firm's assets stood at P1.1 trillion at the end of 2007, up from P1.0 trillion in 2006.

In a statement, the two parts-list groups said they would not be involved in the task of cleaning up the power firm. They said they would not be involved in the task of cleaning up the power firm.

public sector, over the PSE changes. Mr. Arroyo insisted a cap on what Napocor could receive from one source for the contract to build an additional 1,000 MW.

The revised Napocor PSE charge from P1.25 per kilowatt hour to P1.50 per kilowatt hour, resulting in huge losses for the corporation.

Most of all, this is seen to have benefited the interest of the private sector, because Napocor and Manila Electric Co. (Meralco) have been the main beneficiaries of the power firm's losses.

Gov't sees 5.9% to 6.1% GDP growth this year

By Michelle C. Banaag

THE GOVERNMENT has revised its annual growth target for this year because of the poor performance of the first half.

The gross domestic product (GDP), the rule of thumb for the health of the economy, is projected to grow by 5.9 percent to 6.1 percent this year from an earlier forecast of 6.4 percent to 6.6 percent, according to the National Economic Development Authority (NEDA).

According to NEDA, the first half of 2008 saw a 5.9 percent GDP growth, down from a revised target of 6.4 percent.

BSP closes First Savings Bank

By Doris C. Dumlaog

THE BANGKO Sentral ng Pilipinas yesterday ordered the permanent closure of the Yujico family's First Savings Bank and placed the cash-strapped bank under the receivership of the Philippine Deposit Insurance Corp.

BSP officer in charge Alberto Reyes said the Monetary Board, the BSP's policy-making body, held an emergency meeting yesterday and passed a resolution at 10:30 a.m. forbidding the bank from further doing business in the Philippines following its failure to service deposit withdrawals.

"The decision of the MB paves the way for the immediate assumption by PDIC of First Savings Bank's assets and liabilities, thereby facilitating the payment of its depositors particularly those with deposits of P250,000 and below," Reyes said.

It was the first bank to be placed under the PDIC's receivership since Congress passed a new charter which increased the minimum deposit insurance coverage from P100,000 to P250,000.

Established in 1965, First Savings Bank's head office is in E. Rodriguez, Quezon City. It has three branches located in Cubao, C.M. Recto and Tanay, Rizal.

Reyes said the MB's decision to permanently shut down the bank followed the failure of First Savings Bank to meet withdrawals of its depositors early this week.

Late Tuesday afternoon, bank chair Brendon Yujico formally notified the BSP through a letter that their board declared a "bank holiday" or suspended operations, due to sudden heavy and massive withdrawals by depositors at its four branches.

First Savings Bank has P213.47 million worth of assets as against P215.58 million worth of liabilities, based on its statement of financial conditions as of end-June. The bank has been deficient in capital since 2000, but it pleaded with the BSP to give it more time to bring in fresh funds.

"Since last year, the Yujico family, which is the majority owner of First Savings Bank, had been in negotiations with prospective investors for the sale of the bank. However, the death of family patriarch Jesus Yujico late last year derailed negotiations," Reyes said.

The Yujico family likewise owned the defunct bus liner Yujico Transit.

In a separate statement, the PDIC reported that the bank had 10,609 account holders with total deposits of about P193.93 million, almost all of which fall under the new minimum deposit insurance coverage.

"PDIC is currently conducting an inventory of assets and records of the bank. It has also started assessing and examining the bank's deposit records in preparation for the servicing of claims of insured deposits," the PDIC said.

JIL spurns calls for donations

By Blanche S. Rivera

DON'T expect Jesus Is Lord Church Worldwide to give a cent to the Bayanihan Fund.

JIL founder and Bangon Pilipinas president Eddie Villanueva yesterday said that the JIL and Bangon supporters would not contribute to the Bayanihan Fund and even warned donors that the government could use their donations for personal gain.

The evangelist, whose group claims three million members here and abroad, made the announcement after some Christian leaders had pledged to help the government by passing a second offering in their churches for the Bayanihan Fund.

"It could be stupidity on the part of the stakeholders (to pour out money for the government)... The cause of the crisis is the incumbent administration," he said.

Villanueva, who lost the presidential race in the last elections, took President Macapagal-Arroyo to task for claiming during the campaign that the economy was doing well.

He said the government led the people to believe that the fiscal situation was fine when it was borrowing left and right, plunging the country deeper into debt.

Villanueva said that the "frightening statistics," including a P5.3 trillion consolidated public sector debt, was "enough to justify an uprising."

Aravilla writes 30

REPORTER Jose Felipe "Boyot" Aravilla Jr. died in his sleep early morning yesterday. He was 29.

Aravilla was a journalist for nine years. He worked for the Philippine Star and the Manila Standard, covering the Comelec, the Church, the police and local governments.

He resigned from the Philippine Star two weeks ago to join the Inquirer on Sept. 16.

He was also a contributor to the Philippines Free Press and Newsbreak. He wrote several investigative pieces on corruption in the Department of Justice, Customs and the New Bilibid Prisons, and the plight of residents of the Baseco compound.

Aravilla was a fourth year law student at the Lyceum of the Philippines. He received his journalism degree from the University of Santo Tomas.

He is survived by his mother Vicki and only sister Odette.

His body lies in Aravilla Compound, M.H. del Pilar corner Lingahan streets, Malanday, Valenzuela City. Interment has been set next week at the White Reyes Memorial Park in Valenzuela City.

Metro mayors say no to IRA cuts

By Rongano Oria, Luigi del Puerto, Servo Geronimo, The Sunstar and Editor Benito Jr.

REDUCTION

The issue Metro Manila mayors want their interest income (IRA)

At a recent press Metro Manila Council meeting presiding Mayor Lina Astorino said that the mayors would not agree to a 20 percent reduction in their interest income (IRA) that the reduction of the IRA would affect the delivery of services to their respective cities and municipalities

Under the Local Government Code, the IRA consists of the 40 percent share taken from taxes collected by the national government. This is divided as follows: 20 percent for provinces, 20 percent for cities, 20 percent for municipalities and 20 percent for the mayors. However, the national government has not properly and lawfully used the IRA for the assembly and building and occupancy permits

A suspension of the IRA share for 18 months would roughly amount to P20 billion, a sum that local governments could not absorb

The impact of any cut in IRA, and the burden on residents, especially poor, the mayors said. A reduction in the cash for garbage collection, for water, could mean less collection fees or lower collection

"I protest on being cut IRA, but I am in that the national government must be making progress in making cities and towns in the country," said Manila Mayor Lina Astorino

Opec to raise price target

By Abigail L. Ho

STRAUSBURG, Australia—Taking note of the changing economic landscape and the effects of production cuts on world oil prices, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries is making the possibility of raising its target range of oil prices to $22-$28 a barrel.

Parsons Washington, Opec president and secretary general said, it is now in the final stages of the negotiations for the target price. The target price will be set by the Opec members in the next meeting in London.

He added that Opec's $22-$28 target, which the group has adopted since 2002, has been under attack by some producers and has not been able to meet the demand for oil. The group is now in the process of raising its target price to $22-$28 a barrel.

Healthier options

"It's not very healthy people interested in our restaurant," said Samson, "as well as providing them with healthy options." Bangus is a fish that is found in the Philippines, and it is also the most popular fish in the country.

Dealer recalls defective vehicles

IT'S alarming enough that used vehicles from abroad, along with their defects, are being brought in here, but even that's not the worst. The defective vehicles of Toyota, Honda, and Nissan are being brought in here.
